

Gypsy and Traveller Caravan Count: January 2016

This Statistical Release presents the most recent results of the bi-annual Gypsy and Traveller Caravan Count conducted by Local Authorities in Wales. It presents the number of Gypsy and Traveller caravans on authorised and unauthorised sites in Wales, and the status of pitches on Local Authority sites for January 2016. The Gypsy and Traveller caravan counts are voluntary and are carried out in January and July every year. See the Key Quality Information section for further background and quality information. More detailed tables are provided on StatsWales. Terms which have a special meaning are explained in the glossary.

Key results

- On the 16 January 2016 there were 931 Gypsy and Traveller caravans and 108 sites reported in Wales.
- Across the 22 Local Authorities that participated in both the January 2015 and 2016 count, the total number of Gypsy and Traveller caravans has decreased by 8.7 per cent (89 caravans) and the total number of sites (both authorised and unauthorised) has increased by 8.0 per cent (8 sites).
- Of the total number of caravans, 84 per cent (782 caravans) were on authorised sites. Of these, 580 (74 per cent) were on Local Authority sites and 202 (26 per cent) were on private sites.
- There were 371 pitches on Gypsy and Traveller sites provided by Local Authorities. Of these, 370 were residential pitches and 1 was a transit pitch. 99 per cent of the residential pitches were occupied.
- The total number of caravans on unauthorised sites was 15 per cent (26 caravans) lower in the January 2016 count compared to the January 2015 count.

At the time of the January 2016 count, the total number of caravans in Wales was 931. There were 782 caravans on authorised sites with planning permission, accounting for 84 per cent of all caravans. Of these, 580 (74 per cent) were on socially-rented sites and 202 (26 per cent) were on privately-funded sites.

There were 52 caravans on unauthorised sites on land owned by Gypsies and Travellers, accounting for 6 per cent of all caravans. A further 97 caravans (10 per cent of all caravans) were on unauthorised sites not owned by Gypsies and Travellers.

From Table 1, it can be seen that Cardiff and Pembrokeshire had the highest total number of caravans; combined these accounted for over 30 per cent of all caravans. Conwy, Denbighshire and Caerphilly reported having no caravans in the January 2016 count.

In some cases, caravans are on sites which are unauthorised but the Local Authority has decided not to seek removal of the encampment. These are shown in Table 1 as unauthorised sites which are 'tolerated'. 119 caravans were on unauthorised sites that were 'tolerated'; the largest numbers of these were seen in Newport (on sites not owned by Gypsies and Travellers) where there were 26 caravans in January 2016. Cardiff had the most 'tolerated' sites on land owned by Gypsies and Travellers in January 2016 (18).

² Does not include Authorised Private Sites

There were 371 pitches on Gypsy and Traveller sites provided by Local Authorities in Wales on 16 January 2016. Of these, 370 were residential pitches and 1 was a transit pitch. The number of transit pitches has decreased notably since the July 2015 count; this is due to the seasonality of pitches as, during the summer count, Powys had provided temporary stopping sites for Gypsies and Travellers attending the Royal Welsh Agricultural Show. This is in contrast to the January 2016 count where these transit pitches were not available.

Cardiff, Pembrokeshire and Neath Port Talbot had the highest number of pitches provided by Local Authorities (80, 75 and 56 pitches respectively) accounting for over half of the total number of pitches (57 per cent). There were 9 Local Authorities that reported having no pitches on 16 January 2016.

At the time of the count, 99 per cent of the residential pitches were occupied; this is slightly less than January 2015 when all residential pitches were occupied.

The total number of pitches in January 2016 was the same as in January 2015. The proportions of pitches that were vacant transit, occupied transit, vacant residential and occupied residential over the last four counts can be seen in Figure 2. Again, the seasonality influences the number of transit pitches available.

Table 3 shows that on 16 January 2016, Cardiff had the highest total number of caravans with 172, 10 per cent of which were on unauthorised sites. Pembrokeshire had the second highest number with a total of 140 caravans.

The Isle of Anglesey and Ceredigion did not provide authorised sites, so in those Local Authorities all caravans were on unauthorised sites. In contrast, all the caravans in Neath Port Talbot, Bridgend and Monmouthshire were on authorised sites.

Overall, 16 per cent of caravans in Wales were on unauthorised sites. This is lower than in the January 2015 count, when 17 per cent of caravans in Wales were on unauthorised sites.

Across the four counts, July 2015 had the highest total number of caravans, with 1,029. January 2016 had the lowest total across the four counts with 931.

When comparing the January 2015 and January 2016 counts across the whole of Wales, the number of caravans on authorised sites has decreased by 7 per cent (63 caravans) and the number of caravans on unauthorised sites has decreased by 15 per cent (26 caravans)

There were 108 Gypsy and Traveller sites in Wales in January 2016; an increase of 6 sites from July 2015. 74 of these were authorised (69 per cent) and 34 were unauthorised (31 per cent).

Comparing January 2015 to January 2016, the total number of sites has increased by 8 (8 per cent). Looking at the increase in more detail, all 8 of the sites were authorised. The number of unauthorised sites is unchanged when comparing the January 2015 and January 2016 counts.

Across the four counts seen in Table 4, January 2016 had the highest total number of sites (it is also the highest total since July 2007).

Source: Gypsy and traveller caravan count, Welsh Government

¹This figure is based on the all Wales totals for each count and hence, as not every Local Authority submitted data for each count, caution should be exercised when drawing comparisons across years. Note that in particular, 2010 had a low response rate with 7 Local Authorities not responding in the January count and 4 not responding in the July count.

Figure 4 shows the historic trend of the number of Gypsy and Traveller sites by authorisation. Since July 2007, there has been an increase of 43 sites (66 per cent); the number of unauthorised sites was the same as in July 2007.

In general, the number of authorised sites has increased faster than the number of unauthorised sites. The apparent drop in the number of sites in 2010 should however be interpreted with caution. In particular, 7 Local Authorities did not respond in the January 2010 count and this may contribute to the fluctuations seen in Figure 4.

Glossary

Caravans

A 'caravan' can include any of the following:

- mobile homes, caravans, trailers and other living-vehicles on Gypsy or Traveller sites and encampments, whether or not they meet the strict legal definition of a caravan;
- touring caravans on Gypsy or Traveller sites and encampments even if not lived in permanently;
- tents, benders or yurts where these are the 'permanent' living accommodation of Gypsies or Travellers.

Gypsies and Travellers

For the purposes of this release 'Gypsies and Travellers' include Traditional and Ethnic Gypsies and Travellers or members of non-traditional New Traveller groups who live in caravans or other moveable dwellings whether or not they meet the strict legal definition of a 'Gypsy' or 'Traveller'. The caravan count is not designed to be an estimate of the Gypsy or Irish Traveller population in Wales.

Local Authority sites

Sites operated by Local Authorities or Registered Social Landlords (RSLs) to accommodate Gypsies and Travellers.

Not Tolerated

A 'not tolerated' encampment is one where: the Local Authority or police are using, or are preparing to use, their powers under the Criminal Justice and Public Order Act 1994 to remove the encampment, or where the landowner (including the Local Authority) has instigated, or is preparing to instigate, action either through the courts or under common law rights to regain possession of the land.

Pitch

A pitch also referred to as a plot, will vary according to the size of the occupant household. One pitch can accommodate multiple caravans.

Privately funded sites

Privately Funded Gypsy and Traveller sites with planning permission may include:

- sites with planning permission owned by Gypsies and Travellers for their own and/or their family's occupation and/or for commercial letting;
- sites owned by any other private individual or body with planning permission for use as a Gypsy or Traveller site;
- sites owned by a Local Authority but leased to, or managed by, a non-Local Authority body or individual under arrangements which do not give the Local Authority control of site management (critically of rent setting and lettings).

'With planning permission' may be interpreted to include sites without 'planning permission' as such, but with established use rights or other planning status which means that planning enforcement action cannot be taken.

Tolerated

A 'tolerated' encampment is one where the Local Authority and/or the land owner have decided not to seek the removal of the encampment, and where the encampment has been or is likely to be 'tolerated' for an indefinite period of months or years.

Unauthorised sites on Gypsies or Travellers own land

Unauthorised sites where Gypsies and Travellers are living on their own land in caravans/moveable dwellings without planning consent or established use rights. Such sites may vary in size and in the extent to which the land has been 'developed' with roadways, distinct plots, hard-standings, amenity blocks etc.

Unauthorised sites on land not owned by Gypsies or Travellers

Caravans/ moveable dwellings on sites without planning permission on land not owned by Gypsies or Travellers. The land may be in public or private ownership, including the highway.

Key Quality Information

Official Statistics are produced to high professional standards set out in the Code of Practice for Official Statistics. They undergo regular quality assurance reviews to ensure that they meet customer needs. They are produced free from any political reference.

Note that the information collected as part of the count is outside the scope of National Statistics. This section provides a summary of information on this output against six dimensions of quality: Relevance, Accuracy, Timeliness and Punctuality, Accessibility and Clarity, Coherence, and Comparability.

Relevance

The bi-annual counts of Gypsy and Traveller caravans and families were reintroduced in Wales in July 2006 following recommendations from the Review of Service Provision for Gypsies and Travellers (pdf), carried out by the Welsh Government's Equality of Opportunity Committee in 2003, and the Welsh Government's review of the Accommodation Needs of Gypsies and Travellers in Wales undertaken by Pat Niner of Birmingham University 2006.

The commencement of section 101 of the Housing (Wales) Act 2014 requires Local Authorities to carry out an assessment of the accommodation needs of Gypsies and Travellers residing in or resorting to their area.

The Welsh Government has allocated approximately £3.8m in 2015/16 for significant site extensions in Torfaen and Neath Port Talbot, the construction of Conwy Council's first Gypsy and Traveller site and refurbishment on a further eight sites.

Since January 2011, the counts have been conducted by the data collection team within the Welsh Government. Previous data collections had been conducted by the Department for Communities and Local Government (DCLG).

The caravan count does not estimate the number of Gypsy and Travellers in need of sites. Evidence suggests that many people identifying as 'Gypsy or Irish Travellers' live in homes that are not mobile structures.

Further information from the 2011 Census on Gypsy and Travellers accommodation for England and Wales is available from:

<http://www.ons.gov.uk/ons/rel/census/2011-census-analysis/what-does-the-2011-census-tell-us-about-the-characteristics-of-gypsy-or-irish-travellers-in-england-and-wales-/index.html>

Users and Uses

The count is used when assessing bids from local authorities for the Gypsy and Traveller Sites Capital Grant. Some of the other uses include:

- Monitoring of progress towards targets
- Policy development
- Advice to Ministers
- Informing debate in the National Assembly for Wales and beyond

There is a variety of users of the Gypsy and Traveller Caravan Count statistics, including national and local government, researchers, students, as well as individual citizens with an interest in the count.

The Programme for Government 2011-2016, which is the current government programme, outlines the Welsh Government's commitment to increasing the number of authorised Gypsy and Traveller sites in Wales. As such, there is an indicator within the Programme for Government, looking at the number of authorised Gypsy and Traveller sites (TR126).

Further information on the programme for Government can be found at <http://gov.wales/about/programmeforgov/?lang=en>

Accuracy

The data contained in this release is collected from information reported by Local Authorities. The response and quality of the count can be affected by the following factors:

- Local Authorities not completing their returns.
- Inadequate counting practices.
- Geography - particularly in large rural areas which require correspondingly large resources to map all sites.
- Gypsy and Traveller mistrust.
- The counts are voluntary, with no rewards to Local Authorities completing their returns or penalties for those that fail to do so.

The caravan count for Wales in this statistical release was conducted on the same day as the Department for Communities and Local Government (DCLG) conducted the caravan count for England (16th January 2016). This is to avoid double counting caravans travelling between Wales and England.

Symbols

The following symbols may have been used in this release:

p Provisional

r Revised

Timeliness and Punctuality

The count is carried out on a specified date in January and July each year, giving a snapshot of the number and location of caravans on the specific date. The data is published ten weeks after the reference period, this allows time to collect, collate and validate the data.

Accessibility and Clarity

This statistical first release is pre-announced and then published in the Statistics and Research section of the Welsh Government website. It is accompanied by more detailed tables on Statswales, a free to use service that allows visitors to view, manipulate, create and download data.

Comparability and Coherence

Meaningful comparisons of total figures for Wales over time are limited by Local Authorities who do not take part in the count. It is therefore advised that comparisons over time should only be made for Local Authorities that have taken part in all relevant counts.

Data for the Gypsy and Traveller Caravan Count is subject to seasonality. To compare figures over time it is advised to look at the winter and summer counts each year separately. The count takes place twice a year to reflect winter residence and summer travelling trends and changes. Previous years figures indicate the number of unauthorised caravans are higher during the summer (July) count.

Equivalent information for England is available via the Department for Communities and Local Government \(DCLG\) website. The date for collection is arranged with the Department for Communities and Local Government and, where possible, is the same for England and Wales.

Revisions

We follow the Welsh Government's statistical revisions policy, details of which are available at:

Consultation

The Welsh Government's consultation on official statistics closed on 3rd March 2014. The consultation covered a range of proposals relating to official statistics products, including a review of the frequency and content of the Gypsy and Traveller Caravan Count. A summary of responses to the consultation, including our intended course of action for each statistical product affected, was published in April 2014 as is available here:

Welsh Government is currently trialling a new online caravan count system which will allow Local Authorities to log unauthorised encampments as they occur and record authorised sites. The new system will go live in July 2016 and will replace the existing system.
