Would you like to send staff on a training course, but are too busy to release them from their work?

Cyngor Gwynedd is keen to help businesses upskill their employees, by enabling them to free up their staff's time and overcome other barriers in order to train, there is a grant of up to £3,000 per business (based on up to 100% costs) available to enable businesses to train workers who are currently trained to level 1 and 2, those in entry-level jobs, and those experiencing in-work poverty.

What qualifies?

You can use this grant to pay for:

- Training
- Travel costs
- The costs of funding another person to do the work of the staff member being trained, while they are receiving the training
- Other costs involved in freeing up staff to attend training

Before moving on to apply for a grant, we are asking businesses to complete this short form to ensure you are eligible for support.
