

Preparing yourself as a Witness

As a witness try to answer as clear and simple as possible and establish your answers on evidence or real experience.

The Committee or Scrutiny Investigation may call on two types of witnesses. The person or officer who is responsible for the service that is being scrutinised; and any other one (officer, user or other person) who is able to support the committee or Scrutiny Investigation to scrutinise.

1 Who will be present in a Scrutiny Committee or Working Group?

- The Scrutiny Committee includes 18 elected members (councillors) based on political balance. The committee or Scrutiny Investigation does not include councillors who are responsible for services. The Scrutiny Committee may also include co-opted members which may for example represent groups such as Schools, Age Concern Gwynedd a Môn, Mental Health etc.

There will be approximately 5 Council officers present in a Committee e.g. Head of Department, Gareth James, Member Support and Scrutiny Manager 01286 679261 and Members and Scrutiny Support Officer.

Chair and Vice-chair of the Committee will be chairing the meeting.

- Scrutiny Investigations include councillors and bring in experts from other agencies and bodies, including input from a bank of experts from the Third Sector, and a small number of Council officers.

A Chairman will be appointed from the elected members at the first meeting of the Scrutiny Investigation.

2 Committee and Scrutiny Investigation Meetings

The meetings of Committees and Scrutiny Investigations are held in committee rooms or other venues outside the Council depending on the matters under consideration. We will write to you to let you know where the meeting will be held.

A copy of the agenda and any other relevant papers will be sent to you before the meeting.

Gwynedd Council works through the medium of Welsh and a translation facility will be available for each meeting.

3 What will members of the Committee or Scrutiny Investigation ask me?

You will receive a letter inviting you to the meeting. The letter will include details of the field in which you be ask questions about. You will be asked to provide information that will help the committee or Scrutiny Investigation to prepare recommendations based on your evidence on further development of services.

4 Preparing to give evidence to a Committee or Scrutiny Investigations meeting

- You are expected to read the papers that will have been sent to you. This will ensure that you will have information regarding the main concerns or developments under consideration.
- It will be useful for you to prepare a note for yourself on the points that you wish to present. Possibly the Committee or Scrutiny Investigation will send you a list of questions and invite you to respond on paper or by presentation, but do this only if the committee or working group has asked you to do so.
- Your written evidence should include the following in order to enable the members to come to a conclusion:
 - Factual information
 - Your view – making clear on what it is based
- You should understand that the members of Committee or Scrutiny Investigation are not experts in your field of work, so avoid the use of jargon when giving answers to questions.
- Talk to officers who support the meeting. They will be able to confirm what the members expect from you.
- Attending a meeting of a Committee or Scrutiny Investigation is an opportunity for you to present information and experiences regarding your regime/organisation to elected members.

5 Contributing

The main purpose of inviting contributors to meetings is to get evidence / additional information and to consider different experiences in relation to a specific matter or concern.

Based on the contributions made:

- Recommendations are made by the Chair of the Scrutiny Investigation to the relevant Committee.

- Recommendations are made by the Chair of the Committee to the Cabinet or full Council.

6 Requirements of Contributors

If you have any specific requirements or needs in order to help you contribute, please contact Gareth James, Member Support and Scrutiny Manager 01286 679261

GarethJames@gwynedd.gov.uk so that we may prepare in advance.

If you require information in any other form, for example in large print or on tape, please let us know as soon as possible.

If you have any comments, be they positive or negative, on your experiences of contributing towards the scrutiny process, could you please contact Gareth James, Member Support and Scrutiny Manager 01286 679261
